Mandy celebrates a swinging 60

210 GUESTS WERE counted coming in through the gate at Los Laureles Lodge to attend the 60th birthday celebration of Mandy Webb. Mandy, dressed in a creation from Mexico, added gifts such as leis, love beads, peace symbols and other medallions to his outfit as birthday gifts arrived. Rosemary Gross (left) and Ann Lund (right) from Los Angeles were only two of the out-of-town guests who flew in from San Francisco, Hawaii, Puerto Vallarta and Southern California to attend the evening's festivities.

Slimming dance-swim classes at Los Laureles

Vala Bovie, director of the School of Classical Ballet in Berkeley, will begin classes in dance and swim at Los Laureles Lodge on Thursdays, Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays, beginning tomorrow. Aimed at adult clientele, the program is geared to better appearance and health, along with improved grace, through dance and swimming.

Madame Bovie, who came to this country from Paris a few years ago, has had an extensive background in this field on the continent. She is a professor and member of the jury of the British Association of Classical Dance and the Conservatory of Paris.

Thursday sessions will be in the afternoon and the others will be in the morning. For information please call Mr. or Mrs. Bulmer at Los Laureles, 659-2233.

Art students win top awards

In the past five years, students of Carmel artist John Cunningham have won 12 out of 18 possible awards at the state fair in Sacramento. This has included all the top awards and four second prizes.

This year is no exception, as three students again won awards in the college, university and private art school division of the California State Exposition and Fair.

A painting by Paula Newman won the first prize of $100 and the state purchase award. Genaro Calabrese won the $75 second prize and Tom Graner won an honorable mention. All are second year students at Cunningham's Carmel Institute.

The institute has been an active part of Carmel art life since 1938 when it was located on the corner of Dolores and Ocean. In the late forties it moved and is now located in the Court of the Golden Bough, on Ocean Avenue at Monte Verde.

Valley Chamber meets Thursday

The Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce board of directors will meet tomorrow (Aug. 1) at the CV Golf Club at noon.

Guest speaker will be a representative from Cal-American Water Company.

Any Chamber member is welcome to attend, but reservations should be made immediately with secretary Rae Black at 659-4253.

THE REV. JAMES BROCK, pastor at St. Dunstan's examines items displayed by Red Cross volunteers, Mrs. Rogers Parratt and Mrs. George Marston. To acquaint the public with the Christmas gift bags to be sent to servicemen and women in Viet Nam again this year, Red Cross volunteers will be stationed in Carmel and at the Rancho Shopping Center with samples of the bags and gifts,

Carmel Valley Community Youth Center

Movie on pot to be shown

A pot party is interrupted by the police...screaming, protesting teenagers are caught. They get arrested...they SPEAK OUT! Others, non-users are interviewed.

The color film, "Marihuana" narrated by Sonny Bono (of Sonny and Cher, popular recording artists), makes no moral judgement, it simply states the facts.

"Marihuana" will be presented by the Drug Information Center on Thursday, August 8, at 8 p.m. at Carmel Valley Youth Center, Ford Road.

Following the film, a panel will answer questions from the audience and a demonstration of burning marihuana will take place. The public is cordially invited.

The board of directors of the Carmel Valley Community Youth Center wish to express their sincere gratitude to Attorney Mark Starr for donating his time and effort to the numerous details of the recent consolidation. His aid has been invaluable throughout the years of his membership, and the board is very appreciative.

Thank you, Mark!

The construction of the storage shack has been completed, and as soon as a grill is installed and electricity connected, the Snack-shack will also be open for business by the pool.

The board compliments Ruth Pryer, Kathy Sherman and Dick McKenzie for their success, during the Swim Jamboree, in collecting almost $50 in donations!

Mal Tavares chairman of the Fund Drive, has called a committee meeting to "map out a plan".

Cypress Swim Club

Swimming back into seventh place in the routine competition, the Cypress Swim Club earned fourth in overall team-points at the 1968 Sr. National AAU Outdoor Synchronized Swimming Championships at Santa Clara last weekend.

Members of the 7th place Cypress "A" team are Bonnie Banker, Lindy Doud, Kathy Neill, Jan Roehl, Susie Selfridge, and Judy Snyder.

The Santa Clara Aquamaids defeated the defending champions, the San Francisco Merionettes, in all events, solo, duet, team, and stunts, to win with an overall team-score of 57 to 44.

Kim Welshons of the Aquamaids took the individual stunt and solo competition, then paired with Nancy Hines to win the duet event, and went on to join the eight girl team which won the team division competition in a hair-raising final event.

Marking the first time since 1963 that a defending champion has lost while still in active competition, Margo McGrath of the Merionettes, two-time defender in solo and stunts, was runner-up in all four categories to Miss Welshons.

FOR EATING OUT

New owner-managers have taken over three Carmel Valley restaurants recently.

Christopher Grey is new proprietor of White Oak Restaurant, Scott Jones of the former Valley Kitchen, which he has re-named Scott's Spot, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Emmett of Cottage Inn.

Former owners Mrs. Higgins of White Oak Restaurant and Mrs. Valentina Vernon of Cottage Inn are retiring for well-earned rests.

Grey, who purchased White Oak Restaurant, was born in London, England, and still has a trace of English accent, although he has lived on the Monterey Peninsula for many years. Moving to California immediately after World War II, he went through both the old Sunset School and Carmel High. He also attended MPC and Cal Poly at San Luis Obispo. He was in the Marines for 4 years, learning two useful skills, cooking and photography. He has a wife and three children.

Scott Jones, whose Scott's Spot is on the lower corner of the Valley Center, came here from San Francisco. Born in Arizona, he was raised in far Southern California, near Escondido. He is an Army veteran.

Scott is specializing in short orders, and the restaurant has been livened up with a large mural.

Robert Emmett has been chef and manager of several major Monterey Peninsula restaurants, including Neptune's Table, most recently. A Navy veteran, he and his wife have five children.

His grandfather owned several noted San Francisco restaurants, including Odion's and the Portola Louvre.

Flying Club to be Organized

Four openings are still available in the new Carmel Valley Flying Club, Bob Lambert, who organized the group, announced.

The flying club is purchasing a new Cessna 150 two-place plane, which is being kept on the Valley air-strip. It is fully instrumented and equipped for dual.

A major attraction of the local Flying Club, Lambert pointed out, is availability of free instruction through commercial rating from a member, an airline pilot, who is anxious and willing to put in flying time.

● Community Chapel Guild

Mrs. Rex Pryer and Miss Sarah Oppenheimer were co-hostesses for the benefit bridge and canasta party sponsored by the Carmel Valley Community Chapel Guild. The 27 ladies attending gathered at the Pryer home under the huge oak trees on Calle de la Paloma.

Yellow and white pompom dahlias from Ruth's garden were part of the table decor with yellow and white place mats and napkins.

The dessert assured the sale of at least 26 copies of the 'almost in print' third edition of the Valley Fare cookbook, since it will contain the recipe for the creamy icing used by Ruth on the delicious cake of three kinds of chocolate served during the coffee hour.

Prizes were won by Doris Bundgard, high in bridge; Gertrude Sanford, second in bridge; and Vera Stokes, high in canasta.

● St. Dunstan's Auxiliary

Miniature succulent gardens growing in abalone shells trimmed with pastel net bows were the clever table prizes for the 44 ladies who attended the benefit bridge and canasta party Wednesday - sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary of the St. Dunstan's Episcopal Church.

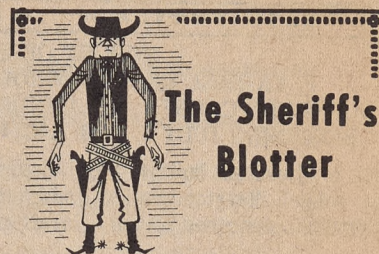

The party was held at the Flight Road home of Mrs. Philip Walker with Mrs. John Creighton serving as her co-hostess.

Table prizes went to Mmes. I. T. Johnson, Clifford Bolgard, Don Sherman, James Green, Philip Mothersill, John Creighton, and to Miss Sarah Oppenheimer. Winners in canasta were Mrs. Ida Duncan, Mrs. Richard McKenzie, and Mrs. Jenny Clark. High in bridge went to Miss Sarah Oppenheimer, with Maj. (ret.) Billie Mans placing second.

The August party is scheduled for the 28th at the home of Mrs. Richard Dick. Reservations may be made by phoning Mrs. Walker at 659-2280.

A number of the ladies attending the Wednesday event purchased at least one of the drip-dry dresses from the line carried by Mrs. Walker as one of the fund-raising projects for the church.

The catalogs for the popular line of imprint Christmas cards have arrived and those interested in placing orders are invited to phone Mrs. Walker for an appointment. Proceeds also benefit St. Dunstan's.
